

Call for Papers

Dear Colleague

Politica Economica/Journal of Economic Policy is a double-blind peer-reviewed scholarly journal published by the leading Italian publisher Società Editrice Il Mulino, in both print and online version. The Journal is dedicated to original research in all areas of economic and public policy with a special, though not exclusive, focus on Italy as an EU country. As of January 2014 Politica Economica/Journal of Economic Policy has modified the editorial policy and renovated accordingly the editorial and the advisory editorial boards. The scope of the Journal encompasses theoretical and applied, macro and micro studies, proposals for new policy measures, methods and applications thereof to evaluate policies already implemented; comparative analyses among EU countries are appreciated.

The Journal publishes papers in English; papers in Italian are exceptionally accepted when it is deemed worthwhile for specific themes. Politica Economica/Journal of Economic Policy will also publish solicited contributions and special issues on topics in economic policy of current interest

The Journal is indexed in these databases: Scopus Bibliographic Database, EconLit, RePEc, Periodicals Index Online, Google Scholar, Articoli italiani di periodici accademici (AIDA), JournalSeek, Essper, Catalogo italiano dei periodici (ACNP). The Journal is included in Rivisteweb, the most authoritative Italian web collection of journals in humanities and social sciences.

As the Editor-in-chief I would like to invite you all to participate in our next issues toward excellence in journal publication by contributing your papers to Politica Economica/Journal of Economic Policy. Authors of papers complying with the Journal's editorial policy will receive referees' reports within three months.

For more information, please feel free to contact me.

Regards
