News from IAERE

The 5th World Congress of Environmental and Resource Economists - WCERE/2014 - was held 28th June – 2nd July 2014 in Istanbul. It was indeed a scientifically intriguing Conference, and a significant number of IAERE members was present in the program, witnessing (if needed) the relevance of Italian scholars in the international environmental and resource economics research arena.

IAERE also organised an informal meeting to share information on the Association and ideas on how to improve the service to our members. Several relevant issues were raised, including IAERE Annual Conferences, fundraising and data availability.

We are now trying to answer the issues that were raised.

So, for example, it is our aim to constantly update the data references in the IAERE website, with the help of all IAERE Members.

Also, the section on "Education and Training" is being continually enriched, and the IAERE website is planned to include in the near future a richer "Publications" section. The latter will feature a "Journals" subsection, where members can suggest the inclusion of new journals relevant for the field of environmental and resource economics, and a "Books and Articles" page, where members can signal books or journal articles they have authored or contributed to. These sub-sections will integrate with the already existing section on Working Papers.

There is of course still substantial space for improvement, and contributions, comments and suggestions from Members are most welcome!
